

Vol 210 | Issue N^o 9

A week in the life of the world
1 MARCH 2024

Guardian Weekly is an edited selection of some of the best journalism found in the Guardian and Observer newspapers in the UK and the Guardian's digital editions in the UK, US and Australia. The weekly magazine has an international focus and three editions: global, Australia and North America. The Guardian was founded in 1821, and Guardian Weekly in 1919. We exist to hold power to account in the name of the public interest, to uphold liberal and progressive values, to fight for the common good, and to build hope. Our values, as laid out by editor CP Scott in 1921, are honesty, integrity, courage, fairness, and a sense of duty to the reader and the community. The Guardian is wholly owned by the Scott Trust, a body whose purpose is "to secure the financial and editorial independence of the Guardian in perpetuity". We have no proprietor or shareholders, and any profit made is re-invested in journalism.

4

GLOBAL REPORT

Headlines from the last seven days
United Kingdom 8
Science & Environment 9
The big story
Senegal Non-elections and the threat to African democracy.10

15

SPOTLIGHT

In-depth reporting and analysis
Israel/Palestine
Peace talks hope as time runs out for Rafah..... 15
UK
A week that brought shame to the halls of Westminster18
Ukraine/Russia
As one economy burns, another seems prosperous ...22
Technology
The disruptive threat of AI in a big global election year26
Science
Can a 100-year-old TB vaccine help fight Alzheimer's?..... 30
United States
How much longer can Haley stay in Republican race?32

34

FEATURES

Long reads, interviews & essays
How new technology is helping us discover the ancient world
By Jacob Mikanowski 34
The power imbalance between the world's languages
By Ross Perlin..... 40

45

OPINION

Jonathan Freedland
The sliver of hope that defies Hamas and Netanyahu..... 45
Sirin Kale
Stalking victims are being failed by the justice system...47
Charlotte Higgins
What art can reveal to us about wartime 48

You might think a poem about the war might be a secondary experience to, say, watching the news... I suspect the opposite is true

51

CULTURE

TV, film, music, theatre, art, architecture & more
Music
Rebel yell: the beguiling Belfast rap of Kneecap 51
Visual arts
Going underground in the new Faroe Islands tunnels..... 54
Visual arts
Lenin's head and Nazi statues on show in Spandau55
Books
Keir we go: the unflashy story of the Labour leader57

60

LIFESTYLE

Tim Dowling
Silent lunch with my sons.... 60
Kitchen aide
The benefit of brown butter... 61
Recipe
Pappardelle and artichoke.... 61

Join the community
Twitter: @guardianweekly
facebook.com/guardianweekly
Instagram: @guardian

On the cover Last weekend, Senegal should have been staging a fair, competitive election. Instead, President Macky Sall's postponement of voting has thrust the country into chaos. Mark Townsend reports on a generation of Africans who have grown up experiencing only democracy, but are now saddled with stagnant economies and scant opportunities.
Photo: Guy Peterson/Getty; Guardian Design