

A week in the life of the world
24 MAY 2024

4

GLOBAL REPORT

Headlines from the last seven days

United Kingdom 8

Science & Environment 9

The big story

Europe A disturbing increase in political violence.....10

15

SPOTLIGHT

In-depth reporting and analysis

Iran

After Raisi's death, will anything change? 15

Ukraine

Race to evacuate Kharkiv's border towns 20

United Kingdom

The infected blood scandal: a wholly preventable tragedy..23

Environment

Azerbaijan's priorities in the countdown to Cop29 24

Haiti

Police try to hold the line in face of armed gangs 28

Science

What's going on during the menopause? 30

34

FEATURES

Long reads, interviews & essays

Amit Shah, the feared enforcer behind India's Narendra Modi

By Atul Dev 34

A US addiction law was not enough to save its namesake

By Katia Riddle 40

45

OPINION

▼ Martha Gill

How the internet became a literal race to the bottom 45

María Ramírez

Catalonia's turn away from dreams of independence47

Polly Toynbee

A self-serving Tory war on overseas students..... 48

“
Some call the internet
a town square,
some a wild west.
In fact, it's a playground

51

CULTURE

TV, film, music, theatre, art, architecture & more

Music

Richard Hawley, Sheffield's home-loving man of steel..... 51

Music

Ukrainian opera marries death metal with Schubert 54

Visual arts

The blooming marvels found in artists' gardens55

Books

Brooklyn's heroine takes a trip back to Ireland 58

60

LIFESTYLE

Tim Dowling

Drilling through the DIY 60

Ask Ottolenghi

Add a kick without chilli 61

Recipe

Aubergine orzo61

Join the community

Twitter: @guardianweekly
facebook.com/guardianweekly
Instagram: @guardian

SPOT ILLUSTRATIONS:
MATT BLEASE

On the cover The attempted assassination of Slovakia's prime minister, Robert Fico, sent shockwaves through European politics. "My desire was to create something stark and arresting while referencing the violence in a non-specific way," says illustrator Pete Reynolds. "The image works as a generic metaphor for the violence but also as an alarm call to the world." Illustration: Pete Reynolds